new observations on chromosome number variation in ... - abstract chromosome numbers have been de-termined for plants of hibiscus trionum l. s.l. from nine locations: two innew zealand, five in austra-lia, and two in africa. two different numbers were obtained, one diploid with $2n = 28$ and the other tetraploid with $2n = 56$. the diploids were found in new zealand and coastal new south wales, all the other populations were tetraploid. based on these ...
